NOV. 17 ---- To Perform and Read, a full evening for the senses will attend AS220 on Friday, Nov. 22, 1985.

Timm Carney will host performances of varied sorts created by local artists and students, as well as present his own work.

Known as an "all around guy" of the written word, Earl LeClaire will give a farewell reading before he returns to California. Earl has published in many <sup>Small</sup> sal journals, and works with prose, poetry, and playwriting.

Peter, Paul, And Mary at '85, Paul Edwards returns to AS220, on Saturday, Nov. 23, and with friends! These original acoustics, and "best of the last 20 years", have been heard in many a coffehouse, and this nights rendition will prove worth talking about.

AS220 Opens its coffehouse at 8pm and acts start at 9pm, with admission $1. As an alternative space, AS220 functions as a public forum for R.I. Arts and its public. Any artist interested in participation in the space ring contact #.
